These Amazing Results Verified by Medical Observation.

For several years, a large group of men and women volunteers have been using BRANDENFELS' under medical observation. Scalp sections from bald scalp areas in the test group microscopically revealed hair roots can be alive, yet not producing hair. The authenticity of these medical tests and results are documented by sworn testimony of the medical personnel who conducted the tests. Above, case L-1101, a 37-year-old man in test group showing the progress of new hair growth in four pictures.

Elaborate medical transcripts from Carl Brandenfels' FIRST sub-dermal Research Project indicate that the use of the BRANDENFELS' SYSTEM offers bald people wonderful new hope. Carl Brandenfels does not guarantee to promote new hair growth, because not every user has grown hair. He does emphatically believe his formulas and unique pressure massage will bring about a more healthy condition that in many cases helps nature grow hair. CARL BRANDENFELS has over 17,000 certified letters of praise from enthusiastic users!

ACT NOW!

TO MEN PAST 40

Who are Troubled with Getting up Nights, Pains in the Back, Hips and Legs, Nervousness- Tiredness, Loss of Physical Vigor

The Cause may be

Glandular Inflammation

Men as they grow older too often become negligent and take for granted unusual aches and pains. They mistakenly think that these indications of Ill Health are the USUAL signs of older age.

This negligence can prove Tragic resulting in a condition where expensive and painful surgery is the only chance.

If you, a relative or a friend have the symptoms of Ill Health indicated above the trouble may be due to Glandular INFLAMMATION.

GLANDULAR INFLAMMATION very commonly occurs in men of middle age or past and is accompanied by such physical changes as Frequent Lapses of Memory, Early Graying of the Hair and Excess Increase in weight... signs that the Glands are not functioning properly.

Neglect of such conditions or a false conception of inadequate treatments cause men to grow old before their time... leading to premature senility, loss of vigor in life and possibly incurable conditions.

NON-SURGICAL TREATMENTS

The non-surgical treatments of Glandular Inflammation and other diseases of older men afforded at the Excelsior Institute have been the result of over 20 years scientific research on the part of a group of Doctors who were not satisfied with painful surgical treatment methods.

The War brought many new techniques and many new wonder working drugs. These new discoveries were added to the research development already accomplished. The result has been a new type of treatment that is proving of great benefit to men suffering from Glandular Inflammation or Rectal and Colon trouble.

The Excelsior Institute is an institution devoted exclusively to the treatment of diseases of men of advancing years. If you were to visit here you would find men of all walks of life. Here for one purpose—improving their health, finding new zest in life and adding years of happiness to their lives.

During the past two years men from over 1,000 cities and towns from all parts of the United States have been successfully treated here at the Excelsior Institute. Undoubtedly one or more of these men are from your locality or close by... we will gladly send you their names for reference.

COMPLETE EXAMINATION AT LOW COST

On your arrival here we first make a complete examination. The Doctors who examine you are experienced specialists. You are told frankly what your condition is and the cost of the treatments you need. You then decide whether or not you will take treatments recommended.

Definite Reservations Not Necessary

If your condition is acute and painful you may come here at once without reservation. Complete examination will be made promptly.

Select Your Own Hotel Accommodations

Treatments are so mild that hospitalization is not necessary so the saving in your expense is considerable. You are free to select any type of hotel accommodation you may desire.

RECTAL-COLON Troubles Treated NON-SURGICALLY

Rectal and Colon disorders are often associated with Glandular Inflammation. These disorders if not corrected will gradually grow worse and often require painful and expensive surgery.

We are in a position to take care of these troubles either with or without Glandular Inflammation treatments.

The proper treatment of such disorders can very easily change your entire outlook on life.

DOING SOMETHING TODAY that will enable you to better enjoy the future years of your life could prove to be one of the best investments you ever made.

RITA'S BACK!

As glamorous as ever, Rita plays a dancing-dramatic role in her first film in many months. Glenn Ford is her co-star in "Affair in Trinidad" just as he was in exciting "Gilda."

Looks like Rita is jumping with joy—just like all of her fans who welcomed her back to the screen in tuneful "Affair in Trinidad."

BIG NEWS in the movie world this fall is the return to the screen of titian-haired Rita Hayworth—once labeled "America's Love Goddess"—after an absence that only made movie-goers' hearts grow fonder.

The vehicle selected for the triumphant return of the glamorous Rita is "Affair in Trinidad" in which the star plays a nightclub entertainer—enabling her to dance a Calypso number that has critics and fans alike wiping their perspiring brows and making long, low whistles of enjoyment.

Rita's co-star in "Affair in Trinidad" is darkly handsome Glenn Ford, the man who played opposite her in the famous "Gilda." Early reviews of "Affair in Trinidad" said the plot was hackneyed and the dialogue dull, but the movie did star Rita Hayworth, and who could ask for anything more?

NIGHT ATTACK!

Your buddy catches forty winks while you clutch your gun in sweaty hands, wondering when the night attack begins.

Suddenly the whistle blows and all hell cuts loose! The light machine guns open up on the Commie bunkers ahead.

Back of the lines the artillery gets into action with a barrage that smashes at your eardrums. You know that when the barrage lifts, your outfit will move out—but fast!

A Gook 82mm shell smacks into the ridge in front of you and you duck, shaking with fear. The earth trembles and a shower of dirt and stone comes down on you. You can feel the sweat on your spine.

THE WORD has been passed; the attack will kick off at midnight. You crouch in your foxhole, carbine at the ready while your buddy tries to catch a few winks. You're all ears—and it seems to you the night is filled with suspicious sounds. Your hands grow clammy and your throat dry. You lick your lips nervously and strain your eyes to pierce the soft Korean night.

You know that ahead of you is a hill to be taken. Which hill? What difference does it make. Korea is full of hills—tough, rugged hills that have to be climbed, fought over, bled on—and captured. This is just another hill—a hill to be taken in your first night attack.

The minute hand on your watch seems to crawl around, and yet—before you know it—it's almost time. Five minutes, then four minutes, then three, then two, one . . .

The seconds tick by. Forty left. Thirty. You brace yourself. Twenty. Your buddy is up and ready now. Ten. You get to one knee. Five. You clench your teeth.

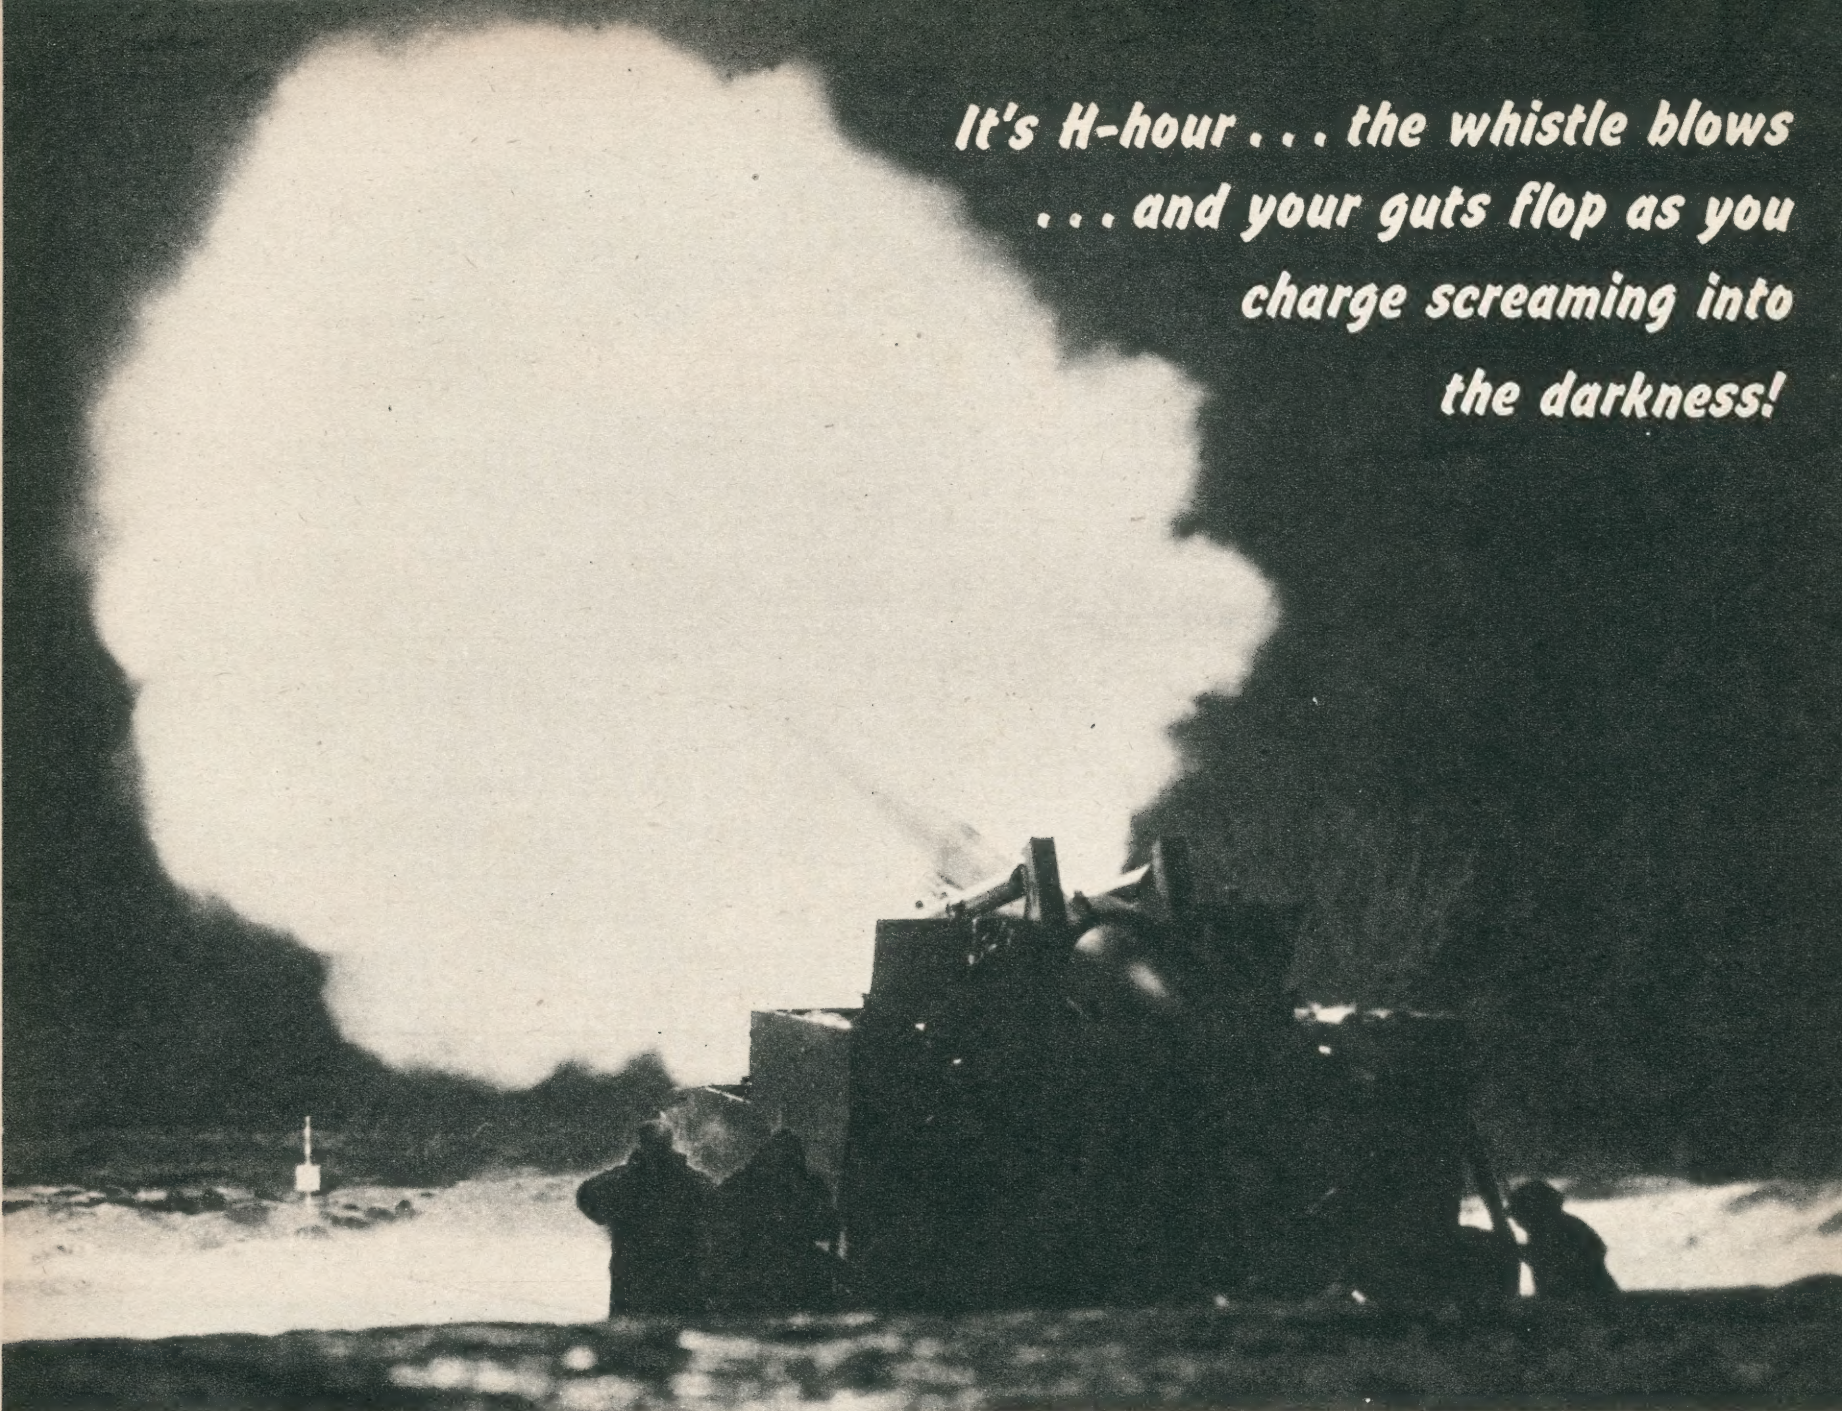

Four, three, two, one . . .

"LET'S GO!"

The night simply explodes. It explodes in a gusher of noise and light that seem to burst down at you, pounding you back into your foxhole, deadening your senses and mak-

*It's H-hour . . . the whistle blows
. . . and your guts flop as you charge screaming into the darkness!*

Night becomes day when the Long Toms open up. You hear the whistle of our own high velocity shells going to the Reds and it's music to your ears.

Here come the tanks! All guns spitting, the bone-busters move up fast, and their tracers slice the night into gaudy patterns as they advance.

Enemy flares go up from the ridges ahead as your outfit attacks. But you don't have time to watch the awesome spectacle as you race ahead.

ing waves of fear dart up and down your spine . . . tingling, chilling.

But the lieutenant's whistle is blowing shrilly and you clamber out of your hole—out into a world gone mad. The sky is criss-crossed by the tracers of millions of shells, rockets, bullets, flares. You begin to walk, to trot, to run, to dash madly forward, and in your ears is a scream you don't recognize as your own. All around you other men are running and screaming—and some are falling, never to rise again. But somehow you are unhit. You see shadows darting up the hill ahead of you and you fire at them. Reload and fire again. An 82mm shell bursts nearby and the concussion slams you to the ground. You shake dirt from your ears, climb up and start forward again. You feel the ground under your feet sloping upward; you're on your way up the hill.

On the ridge an enemy bunker opens up and you hit the dirt again. Someone is yelling for a medic, but all you can see are the angry eyes of the Red bunker, spitting fire.

A mortar squad somewhere behind you gets the range and begins to "walk in" on the target, slamming their bursts behind the

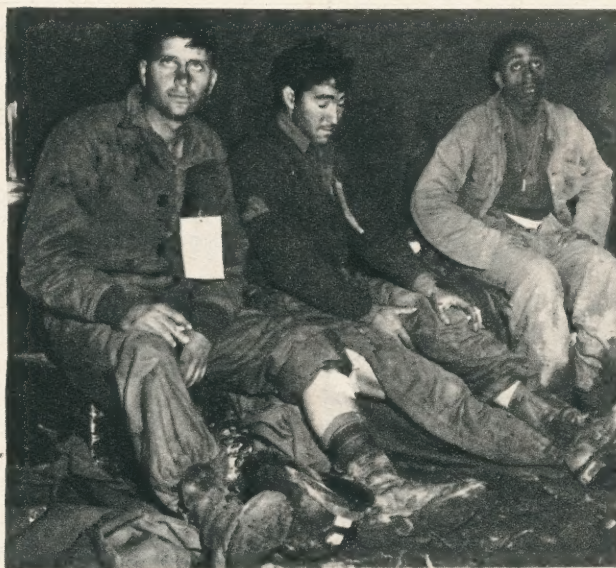

The dawn can't come fast enough for you, and when it does you can see how badly the Commies have been hurt. A Red T-34 tank that caught a napalm bomb is still burning, its crewmen charred crisps.

All that remains is the mopping up—a slow search to make sure the Red dead are dead!

bunker, then bringing them forward. They score a direct hit and the pillbox cracks open like a ripe fruit. Men spill out, but there are riflemen ready to bring them down, sighting in the glare of the burning trees, the flares, the tracers.

Then you're up and over, the ridge is taken, and frantically your outfit digs in, getting set for the inevitable counterattacks. At dawn you'll count your dead and send your wounded back, and try to forget the noise and terror of your first attack at night—a bad dream that will never completely fade.

The wounded begin to stream into the collecting stations to wait patiently for emergency treatment.

Some American donated blood, and now it is used to give life to a GI who gave his for America.

The victims of night battle aren't only the dead. Combat fatigue's an enemy too.

THE TRUTH ABOUT “THE CAT GIRL” LILLY CHRISTINE

THEY CALL her the “Cat Girl.” They call her the “Golden Girl.” They call her “Body Beautiful.” But no matter what you call her, Lilly Christine is undoubtedly the most sensational nightclub performer of the year—and is running Betty Grable and Liz Taylor a close race for Pin-Up Queen of GI’s everywhere.

Tall, sun-bronzed until her skin is the same shade as her long hair, she has one of the most shapely and supple torsos that ever weaved through an exotic dance. When Lilly dances, something electric happens. With a toss of her platinum tresses or a quick look from her green-blue eyes, a room full of people becomes hypnotized.

In addition to her phenomenal dancing ability, the Cat Girl’s greatest asset is her fabulous golden body. It isn’t merely that her 125-pounds are so well distributed between a 37-bust, 25-waist and 35-hips. What makes Miss Christine’s dances so unbelievable is the control she maintains over her body movements.

Her famous “Cat Dance” is a good example of Lilly’s suppleness. The dance itself is based on an old Hindu exercise—the “Naraskur” or cat stretch. It is a study in muscular control inspired by the stretching and restrained tension of a cat. Lilly executes the sleek and graceful motions so flawlessly that she earned the title “Cat Girl” and has had the adjective “feline” applied to her in many national

"My body purrs with happiness. Joy bubbles in my veins" are the words of the song Lilly is singing and enacting in this fine action photo.

The club where the Cat Girl appears will only hold a limited audience and many line up before it opens to make sure of gaining admittance.

Lilly is a serious student of the dance, and each step in her routine is based on a classical dance movement adapted to modern jazz music.

magazines and newspaper stories.

Lilly started her career in nightclubs. She went from there to a featured spot in the Broadway show "Burlesque," starring Bert Lahr. The critics treated her performance very kindly indeed, and Lilly went out to the Coast to appear in several films. After a stint in Hollywood, the Cat Girl returned to Broadway to appear in the hit "Peep Show" in which her torrid dancing definitely was the highspot of the evening's entertainment.

Lilly is now back in her favorite setting—nightclubs. She is appearing mostly in cities throughout the south and southwest and scored a particular hit in New Orleans where the pictures on these pages were taken.

It's difficult to say which of Lilly's routines is the top favorite with her audiences. Trained in ballet, modern and primitive dances from all parts of the world, Lilly devises all her own choreography. She can adapt a native dance or a classical routine to the demands of the Broadway stage or nightclub floor and still make it something as exciting as jazz music.

Lilly's brains, beauty and talent have been homa University students, protesting administrative censorship of a campus publication, the cover of which was adorned with Lilly's classy chassis. The Cat Girl has also received the first New Orleans' "Blue Book Award of Merit" for being the best exotic dancer of 1951-1952.

The busy Miss Christine has even lectured at the City College of New York. She spoke on revolutionizing the gymnasium periods by special body-building and dancing exercises.

Her smoothly muscled figure is ample justification of Lilly's qualifications as a lecturer on "body-building." The Cat Girl never depends on dancing alone to keep her curves supple but follows a strict diet and stringent exercise schedule.

Besides her Cat Dance, Lilly has several other routines that rate enthusiastic applause. Her "Pillow of Love" dance is one of her most popular. Making a spectacular entrance in a sheer black negligee, Lilly picks three men from the audience and bestows upon them little orchid pillows edged with black lace and drenched with "Passion"—the Cat Girl's favorite perfume.

Tall, sun-bronzed and tantalizing, Lilly does the "Pillow of Love" gyrations as if she really felt them deeply. The music races faster and faster—almost keeping up with the pulse of the audience as the dance reaches a climax. Although the Louisiana Board of Alcoholic Beverage Control declared the dance "lewd and beyond the bounds of decency," audiences are inclined to agree with Lilly that it is merely sensationally exotic. And so say all of us!

Another jungle dance finds Lilly providing her own music on the drums, which she handles like a veteran. Her serious study of native African dances has given her the background for these popular versions of authentic primitive ceremonial rites.

Her long, platinum blonde locks have become an important part of her "Naraskur" or Cat Dance.

Miss Christine claims she keeps her figure through diet and exercise.

In poses reminiscent of the "Petty Girl" Lilly shows the long legs and slender torso that have brought her fame and fortune in the theatre.

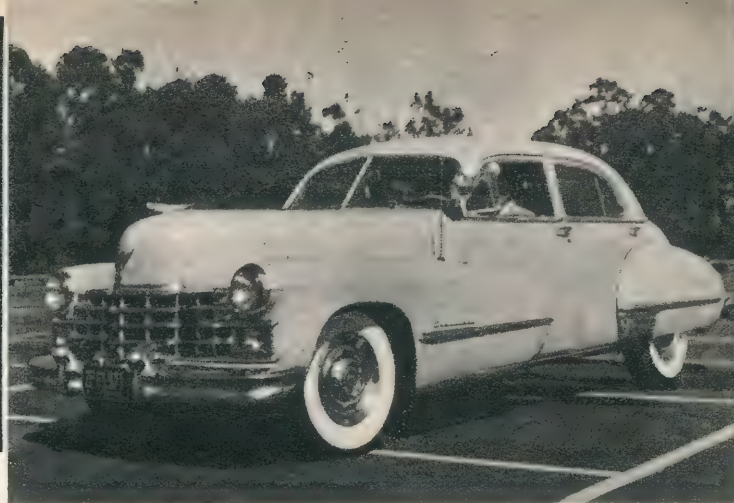

The Cat Girl gets thousands of requests for autographed photos and—it is said—answers each one personally. Which is some correspondence!

WORLD'S MOST FABULOUS CAR

Right, the car is a Cadillac with an extra $12,000 in amazing gadgets!

A water fountain operates from the rear fender—and the water is cold!

Beneath rear seat is an electric washing machine with hand wringer.

Rear seat conceals large kitchen sink.

Here's a car that has every gadget known to science--plus a few extra

IF YOU'RE the kind of guy who hangs baby shoes from the front mirror of your car and decorates the radio antenna with a fox brush, you'll probably turn pea-green with envy when you take a look at the pictures on these pages, pictures of a stock Cadillac that's been improved with more than $12,000 worth of fascinating gadgets.

This dream boat is owned by Louis Mattar, a service station operator in San Diego, Calif. Mr. Mattar is apparently a gadget fancier and not one to stop with half measures. He has installed in his Cadillac a Turkish water pipe, a wire recorder, a barbecue grill, a miniature bar, a washing machine, a sink, a shower, a drinking fountain, electric plug outlets and many more appliances usually found in homes.

But Mr. Mattar is far from satisfied and is adding new gadgets to his super-Cadillac constantly. Latest additions are light indicators to show when gas, oil and water are dangerously low, buttons to refuel the car automatically from a gasoline trailer, and gimmicks that change oil while the car is in motion and repump a tire during a blowout! Coming next, according to the owner, is a bathtub under the front seat. What—no dance floor?

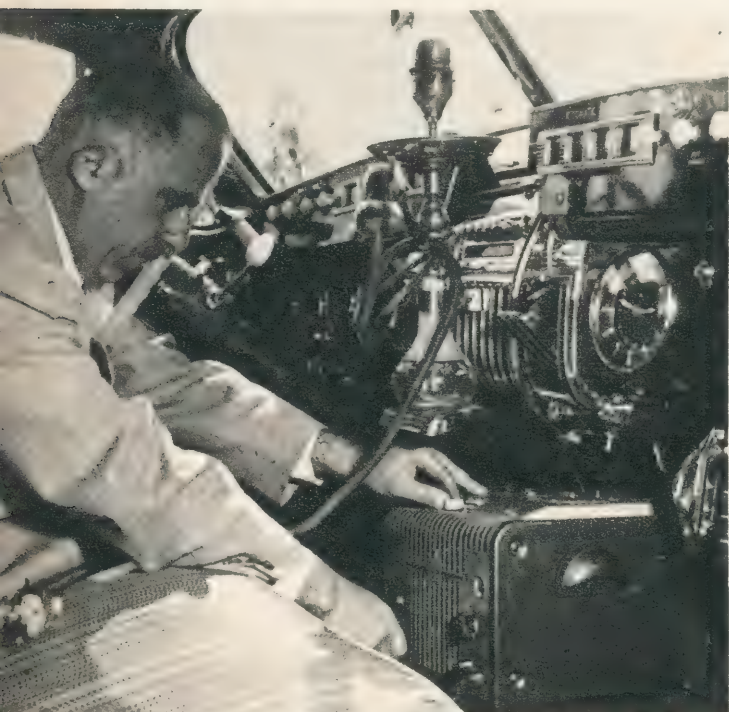

Sink cabinet has an electric razor outlet.

Miniature bar under dash holds water, whiskey and soda.

Dash also has wire recorder, radio and a record player.

Water pipe is fixed to dash board so driver may smoke at his ease.

The shower bath coming from the front fender is warmed by motor, also has cold water.

Electric grill on the back seat arm holds six hot dogs or other hot foods.

THEY CALL IT ART!

Surrealist painters dream-up nightmares you can touch!

THE NIGHTMARE—terror of sleep—has now been brought into actual life and given three dimensional existence at an exhibition of French Surrealists—a group of artists who delve deep into the world of the imagination and subconscious and come up with creations like nothing you've ever seen before.

Using fashion mannequins, the Surrealist painters and sculptors produced masterpieces of horror—all of them, supposedly, mirroring some nightmare the artist experienced. And certainly the nightmares look real enough—real enough to touch! Snails, insects, dripping noses, open sores—the full catalogue of unpleasantness was presented to a not-so-worshipping public who, after viewing the exhibit, had one comment to make—"It all seems like a nightmare!"

Black net brassiere filled with popcorn adorns a woman whose head is wreathed with clouds.

A woman dressed like a man is one of the strange three dimensional statues molded by surrealists.

Spoons and eggs are featured in this nightmare version of the masked mannequin of your dreams.

Have a cigarette? A slippery lady who just came out of a sleep sea enjoys the sliminess of snails as they clamber over her.

We don't know what hidden yearnings this figure symbolizes—unless it's a deep desire to see Groucho Marx in more movies.

A pansy in her mouth and a bird cage over her head may mean the artist dreams of a flowery-worded woman with bats in her belfry. No? Then what's your idea?

WHAT MAKES YOU CRY?

Champion tear-jerker of them all is sensationally popular Johnny Ray—the singer who cries and cries and . . .

AMERICA is on a crying jag! There was a time when songs of happiness, light and gaiety led the Hit Parade, but today the first rule of success for a singer seems to be: Make 'Em Weep!

First to start the new trend was Johnny Ray who promoted facile tear ducts, a weepy voice and real showmanship into fabulous success on records and in personal appearances. Johnny actually weeps when he sings, and so capable is he at making others feel like crying that his recordings "Cry" and "The Little White Cloud That Cried" have sold in the millions.

Johnny has inspired a host of imitators, all of whom feature tear-jerker ballads designed to boost the sale of Kleenex and handkerchiefs. It seems to be true that everyone enjoys a good cry, and today's popular singers are out to see we get it!

Psychologists say weeping is a form of emotional release and some claim it has a healthy, cleansing effect. The theory is that if you cry freely, it acts as a kind of safety valve for miseries that might otherwise build up dangerously if repressed. The ancient Greeks wrote their plays according to the same theory. Their dramas were always stark tragedies that ended in a general blood bath that, supposedly, left the audience exhausted, emotionally cleansed and feeling fit.

The only trouble in this "make 'em cry" theory is that what makes one man weep might make another laugh like hell. Singers like Ray have as many critics as they have fans, and next to comedy, real sadness is probably the toughest thing to portray in the theatre.

What makes you cry? It might be news of the death of some one close to you. It might be a very touching love scene, the story of a brave man dead in action, death of a pet—almost anything can bring forth sobs. It would take a brutal nature to get through life without shedding a few tears.

Take a look at the pictures on these pages. If you can look at all of them without feeling like crying, maybe you better see a doctor. Your emotional safety valve may be stuck, and you may be heading for an explosion!

Does this make you cry? It did passers-by who stood helpless while a Chicago man wept bitterly over the body of his wife, killed in crash.

Does the death of men in battle make you weep? When a soldier died in Korea, his buddy was stricken with grief and was comforted by another.

Do sights like this make you cry? This beggar family in Shanghai drags a crippled father along by ropes and asks for alms. Father was injured in a coal mine.

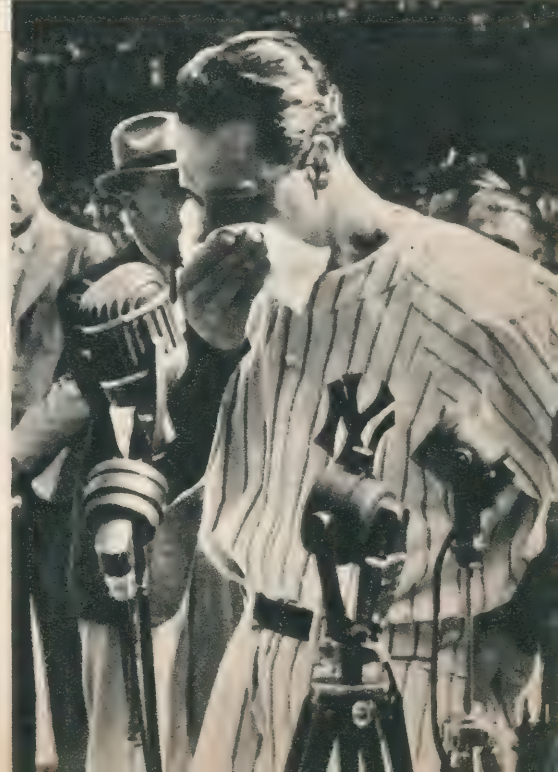

A blind woman weeps as her "seeing eye" dog is hit by an automobile and fatally injured.

Beryl Wallace's statue at Earl Carroll's grave may cause you to weep. They died together in air crash.

"I'm lucky to be a Yankee," Lou Gehrig said at last day at Stadium. Many wept with him.

MODERN DESIGN

Bathing suit designer Maria Cortez shows what can be done with net theatrical hose and a white fringed stole. Do you like the result?

Colored scarves can be folded and tied to make an effective and inexpensive two-piece swimsuit. Designer Maria hails from Brooklyn.

Maria favors a black and white Bikini made of a material that supposedly is water resistant, though she's never worn it in swimming!

Lovely Maria Cortez designs bathing suits that are setting a new style for models in Manhattan

After making such a hit with the clothes she had designed for herself, the red-haired model started making bathing suits for other girls and now has a long waiting list.

Only the best figures look well in a Bikini according to Maria, who designs the brief swimsuits.

YOU'VE HEARD of designing women, haven't you? Well, meet Maria Cortez, a Brooklyn miss who makes a career of designing—bathing suits, that is!

Maria is a red-haired, olive-skinned lovely who claims she found her modeling career limited because she couldn't buy the kind of bathing suits that enhanced her rounded charms. Figuring there must be other Manhattan models in the same boat, our heroine set to work with sketch pad, cloth, scissors, and needle and thread and dreamed up a series of beach costumes that would have life guards yelling for help!

The 21-year-old Miss Cortez weighs 118, stands 5 feet 7 inches, tapes in at 35-24-36, and is single. Her ambition? Well, her beach costumes have created such a stir she is now trying her hand at slinky cocktail dresses—the kind that look like they've been painted on!

Oh yes—one more thing. Should you meet Miss Cortez and ask, "Are there any more at home like you, baby?," she'd have to answer, "Yes!" You see, Maria has an identical twin sister and when the two visit a beach together the oglers are happy to see double!

There's plenty to see and do at any hour, in any city, where there's a nightclub row. Here Weegee takes time out for a dance in a New Orleans' hot spot.

With his ever-present cigar clamped firmly in his teeth, Weegee catches some unusual shots in a flop house in New Orleans. He specializes in candid snaps.

Interviews with theatrical personalities are fine opportunities for interesting pictures. Weegee chats with exotic dancer Kalantan.

COVERS AMERICA

and we cover Weegee!

Our hero grabs a shot of "the man on the street" in Minneapolis. Weegee is author of book "Naked City."

The ace cameraman who specializes in photographing naked cities is caught by the candid camera!

WEEGEE, the famous mid-night lens hawk, gained fame in New York as the photographer who followed police cars to gather on-the-spot crime pictures. For ten years the burly cameraman and his ever-present cigar were seen working, eating, and sleeping out of Manhattan police headquarters. He was the only private citizen with a police shortwave radio in his car, and he hit the crime scene "while the body was still warm!"

After the publication of his book, "Naked City," Weegee was lured to Hollywood to become technical adviser on the picture of the same name.

Recently, Weegee—whose real name is Arthur Fellig—toured the nation as advance man for the movie "Sleeping City." His project in each town he visited was to catch the life of the city at night in his lens and show the citizens what their town looked like while they slept.

Here's an exclusive set of pictures showing Weegee on his mid-night tours.

RACKETS of SIN STREET

The big city's kings of vice have sordid schemes to trap the unwary!

By JEFFREY FARLEY

BBROADWAY, Times Square, and 42nd Street compose the biggest, brightest—and perhaps, most crooked area of the world! Here, hidden behind a curtain of twinkling lights, honking cabs, and blaring jazz, the racketeers and kings of sin hold court! And for every one of the big time vice-lords there are a hundred petty crooks, each with his own special scheme!

Broadway lures thousands of girls every year—and each girl has a dream in her heart. It may be a dream of theatrical glory, or perhaps of becoming a top model—but whatever it is, few girls realize their chance for success is one in a million!

It's when disillusionment sets in that the gals often fall prey to the traps of Sin Street! Take the case of Betty J., a pretty eighteen-year-old from Iowa. When Betty hit the big town she had high hopes. She'd been the star of three high school plays and everybody in her home town was sure "she'd go to the top fast!" On their advice, Betty packed her bag and with a few hundred dollars to "tide her over until she got started," she landed in New York.

IT DIDN'T take long for Betty to discover that inexperienced young hopefuls are a dime a dozen on Broadway. As she plodded from agent to agent, growing more desperate with each refusal, her meager funds quickly dwindled. Living expenses in New York aren't cheap and at the end of a month Betty was down to fifty dollars. She was almost ready to give up when she saw an advertisement in one of the theatrical trade weeklies which changed her mind.

"Agent seeks good-looking girls. Experience unnecessary."

Betty was at Harry B.'s office early the next morning. It was a small office and the furniture was cheap and moth-eaten, but Betty didn't care. After all, weren't there autographed pictures of Hepburn, Grable and Bankhead on the wall?

Harry looked her over, asked a few questions and then said, "Sure, Honey, I can place you! It may take a few weeks, but you just leave it to Harry!"

He clipped her for ten dollars that morning and suggested that she take a job in a department store to earn a little money "until she hit the big time!"

Betty found a job and every week she turned over ten bucks to Harry. When she asked when he was going to land her a part, his inevitable answer was, "Don't worry, Baby! I'm working on it!"

Betty finally learned the bitter truth on an afternoon right before Christmas. She went up to Harry's office to make her usual payment and found the agent roaring drunk. Instead of trying to hide his condition, the chiseler jumped up and made a grab for her. Betty was horrified and when she pushed him away Harry got sore. "You stupid little hick! What makes you think you're so high and mighty! Actress! Whatta laugh! I couldn't get you a job in the chorus of a circus!"

Betty took a bus back to Iowa that night. It had taken a long time and cost a lot of money but she finally realized that she'd

Bothered by emotional troubles, she consults a phoney "psychiatrist" who'll charge her plenty.

Unknown to the patient, the "psychiatrist" is making wire recordings of her confessions and later he will use them in his sordid blackmail scheme, threatening to sell the records.

Young girls arrive in New York every day from small towns, anxious to seek fame and fortune.

THAT'S just one of the rackets of Sin Street. And in some respects, Betty was lucky. She only lost time and money. Other girls have suffered far more. Lucy K. was one of them.

Lucy wanted to be a model and when, after only two weeks in New York, she got a job, she was thrilled! It was a simple assignment, nothing complicated—just modeling some sweaters and skirts for a manufacturer—or so the photographer told her! When she'd finished posing she was told that in a few days she could stop in and see the shots if she was interested. "If she was interested!" What girl on her first modeling job wouldn't want to see the pictures?

When Lucy returned three days later she saw the shots, all right! But they weren't the ones she'd posed for! In all the photographs Lucy was nude! She was bewildered and furious! "I don't know how you did this, but I won't let you get away with it! I . . ."

But she didn't have a chance to finish. The photographer broke in. "Take it easy, sister! You ain't going to cause any trouble—because if you do, I'll see that this picture gets peddled all over town! There isn't a guy in New York that would hire you after that!"

Lucy was caught in a vicious trap! If she wanted to model, she had to pose for the photographer who held that picture—and modeling was the only thing Lucy knew how to do!

How did he get the nude shot? It was simple. All he had to do was take the original picture of Lucy in the skirt and sweater, cut off the face and shoulders—and graft it to a picture of another's girl's body!

YES, IT WAS simple, all right—and fiendishly clever! There was no way Lucy could prove that she hadn't posed for the shot! Her story had a tragic ending. After a month of posing how and when the photographer demanded, Lucy could stand it no longer. Her crumpled body was found on the bathroom floor of her cheap hotel room—dead from an overdose of sleeping pills!

Both of the above stories are true—actual records from police files. Unfortunately they are not unique, but instead, only representative of thousands of other such cases.

Here's a brief sample of another racket which many an unsuspecting girl has fallen for. She goes to a phoney "psychiatrist" and during her "treatment" reveals her most intimate deeds and thoughts. One day he asks her to sit down. He wants her to hear something—and the "something" is a record of the conversation during all her previous visits! As she sits frozen with shock and horror, he threatens to make the record public—unless she'd care to buy it!

GIRLS AREN'T the only victims of Sin Street. Many a man has fallen for the "old badger game." An attractive woman invites him to her apartment and arranges a compromising scene. Suddenly a photographer leaps out of the closet and snaps a picture of the cozy couple. The result? The guy is threatened with blackmail!

Picture Follies is publishing this article as a public service. New York is a large and magnificent city—but in any city where 8,000,000 people gather, there are bound to be the vicious and the unscrupulous! We hope this expose of the rackets of Sin Street will serve as a warning to all who read it! Don't let the chiselers make you their next victim!

After girl has realized "agent" will never be able to get her theatrical work, he attempts a physical assault. Reputable theatrical agents are trying to rid their ranks of such vermin.

Phoney "theatrical agent" stops girl on street and promises her a career in the theatre if she'll pay him a weekly sum.

Alone and depressed in her shoddy hotel room, the girl is afraid of returning home and sees no future in big city. Suicide may be next.

THE LIVING DEAD

IN AN institution for the insane in Milan, Italy, lives a 35-year-old woman who does not know she is alive! She is not considered insane since she's never had the faculty of reasoning or using her brain.

Born of blood relations, her brain is the size of an orange and does not give her even an instinctive intelligence. Though her eyes see what is going on, not having a memory her mind cannot register what she sees. She hears every word, but her brain doesn't decipher their meaning.

Everything is eternally new and immediately forgotten. She is spoon-fed like a child since her brain cannot order her strong hands to render this service. At night she is put to bed, despite the fact that she moves around and walks, for she cannot distinguish any difference between floor and bed, having no sense of direction.

Psychiatrists consider her truly exceptional due to her absolute lack of the merest psychism, including those of lower animals. She doesn't know her name and is neither good nor bad, having no feelings at all. She is simply a naught, a cipher, a zero, a nothing—one of the living dead!

EARL WILSON SELECTS

NEW YORK'S MOST

Model Donna Desmond makes Earl Wilson's list of lovelies.

EARL WILSON, whose syndicated column on the world of Broadway and Hollywood goes into hundreds of U. S. newspapers, calls himself a "Saloon Editor." His readers protest he is much more than that, writing one of the more amusing, more literate commentaries on the life of America's theatre-folk. Wilson has a sharp ear for speech, and his interviews have scored several notable scoops. In addition, he has an even sharper eye for beauty and talent. He rarely errs when picking a likely newcomer to Hollywood or the Great White Way, and many of the models and new entertainers he has selected for stardom in his daily column have vindicated his judgement by climbing the ladder of theatrical success.

And when it comes to judging the female form divine, "Oil" Wilson has few peers. A long career on the theatrical beat has given him the judgement to separate the wheat from the chaff in the glamour field, and if he claims a girl is pretty enough to make the grade, you can be certain you'll soon be seeing her in films, on the stage, or on television.

Who are New York's most beautiful models? We put the question to columnist Wilson just like that and here, on these pages, are his selections for the last quarter of 1952. (New beauties arrive on the Manhattan scene in such numbers, no one dares pick the prettiest girls of the year!) These are "Earl's Pearls," and if you know of any lovelier gals in Manhattan, we'd like to know 'em too!

Earl feels showgirl Jeanne Williams is tops in theatrical field.

How could anyone leave charming model Mary Collins off his list?

BEAUTIFUL MODELS

Leggy Lee Fields joins the select "Earl's Pearls."

According to columnist Wilson, dancer Carmen's beauty and talent mean stardom for certain.

How a COP STAYS ALIVE!

The careful cop always approaches the car of a suspect from the rear and keeps on the side away from the driver while commanding him to put his hands up high.

When ordering a suspect to leave a car, the cop has him come out hands first and stands well back in the clear.

A good policeman never sticks his gun in a suspect's ribs or presses it against the man's person. He stands a few yards away so his gun can't suddenly be taken.

It takes plenty of guts and smart tricks to be brave—and stay alive!

THERE ARE tricks to every trade, and the policeman's trade is no exception. The modern, intelligent cop has at his command numerous tricks to keep him one step ahead of today's breakers of the law—who are no slouches either when it comes to tricks.

Police departments have learned the tricks of their trade the hard way—through experience which in many cases cost lives. But from the death of patrolmen killed in line of duty have always come additional tricks to be used in the fight against crime.

Today, practically every large city in the country has an excellent school for police where the latest methods of crime detection are taught. In Los Angeles, for instance, where the pictures on these pages were taken, even after a rookie becomes a patrolman, he must spend two hours per week "in service" training for at least a three-year period.

Shown here are the proper methods of stopping a suspect, searching him, arresting him, and approaching a house suspected of harboring dangerous criminals. The approved methods in all these activities are the result of years of observation and experience with criminals of all types, all over the country. Knowledge of them enables the wise cop to be brave, make arrests that should be made and stay alive while doing it! Policemen, being human, have no particular desire to be dead heroes, and a thorough working familiarity with the tricks of their trade is their best insurance for living to make that promotion to sergeant!

When making a shakedown, the wise cop has suspect place feet wide apart and lean against wall on the palms of his hands. If he makes a false move, his feet can then be kicked out from under him.

Police always handcuff prisoners from the rear, keeping one foot ahead of suspect's.

Cop entering house forcefully stands behind wall for protection, then kicks door open.

Cop uses cover of trees and buildings when approaching house in which a suspect lives.

If it is ever necessary for a cop to make a multiple arrest, he never tries to take prisoners in by himself, but he stands guard with drawn gun while sending for help. Then he stays alive!

ALASKA CALLS!

The rush for the Yukon is on—read this and you'll know why!

LILY LAMONT is the greatest thing to come out of Alaska since the Klondike gold. Hailing from Seward in our frozen possession of the north, Lily was discovered by a theatre-owner of Portland, Oregon, and brought down to a slightly warmer civilization to become a star in Portland's Star Theatre.

Lily's measurements—39-inch bust, 25-inch waist, and 35-inch hips—explain far better than words why she was wasting her time up north where often there was no one to appreciate her but polar bear and seals. Welcome to civilization, Lily, but if Alaska has many more like you, there's going to be another stampede. Yukon count on that! Hmm, does Lily like puns? Just a minute—Alaska!

Lily Lamont, an Alaska gal, now performs in Portland.

Lily's vital statistics are terrific: 39-25-36.

THESE LITTLE THINGS

Head of ordinary household pin (right) was engraved with 65-word Lord's Prayer (above, enlarged a thousand times). The engraver went blind from the task.

MAN'S INGENUITY is directed into many channels. From the making of almost invisible wire to the erection of lofty buildings, gigantic dams and mighty engines of the air, it seems as though man wants to build either the smallest thing in the world—or the largest! The extremes seem to fascinate him, particularly the tiny or microscopic. Perhaps making thing smaller than life-size, makes man feel like a god—or maybe it's just the thrill of making something no one ever made before.

Shown here are some of the smallest things ever created by man. We except the picture below of Miss Mona Freeman. She really isn't that small, ladies and gentlemen; it's just that some tricky photographer snapped her as a Vest-Pocket Venus!

Through minor miracle of cameraman's art, it appears as though Mona Freeman is climbing from a vest pocket.

WHAT IS HOLLYWOOD COVERING UP?

WE CAN SPOT a trend at forty paces, and to us it looks like Hollywood is having a 'cheesecake' revolution. No longer are lovely starlets being posed in bathing suits to prove their charms. Now the film capital is putting them in bloomers, pantelettes, short jackets, and—for all we know—mackintoshes. Look, boys, enough is enough, and this covering-up dodge can be carried just so far. We want to see our screen favorites, and lingerie of the Gay Nineties just ain't for 1953!

Suzi Delair wears shortee jacket.

Patrice Wymore dons old-fashioned, lace-trimmed pantelettes.

Ribbons on her pantelette cuffs are for cute Eileen Christy.

RED-HOT GRANDMA!

MRS. LEONA BOLAND, a 50-year-old grandmother of Chenango Bridge, N. Y., still likes to demonstrate her prowess as a fire-eater, although she retired from her professional career in 1941. Mrs. Boland started her fire-eating at the age of fourteen when she ran away with a circus in Illinois. The secret, Mrs. Boland says, is concentration, and she made as much as $35 an hour by swallowing fire, turning the blue flame of a plumber's torch on her flesh and similar hair-raising stunts, all without damage. Now Mrs. Boland performs only for her friends at private parties and doesn't recommend the tricks to amateurs!

Mrs. Leona Boland blows gasoline flame from mouth.

She swallows fire from a gas-soaked flaming torch.

Putting blowtorch flame out with tongue is easy!

Why, you can use Mrs. Boland as a cigaret lighter!

"I NEVER DREAMED I COULD PLAY MUSIC..."

... until I discovered this 'EASY AS A-B-C' way to learn!"

Over 850,000 People Have Taken It Up Already — But There
Are Millions More to Whom It Can Bring New Happiness

HOW would you like to find yourself playing your favorite instrument so well—and in so short a time—that your friends will be amazed? Not just "picking out a tune"—but playing all your favorite pieces, easily, confidently, and properly, by note!

IMAGINE what good times that would mean. The new friends you would meet. The exciting invitations that would pour in upon you. The fun you would get out of your leisure hours. The deep-down happiness of putting such an accomplishment into your life.

Here Are Some Things To Forget About

Forget about special "talent"—most of our 850,000 students didn't know a single note of music when they started. Forget about tiresome exercises and scales—you learn by playing delightful pieces in your very first week. Forget about "having the time"—you learn in the spare time of your own choosing; free from the rigid schedule imposed by a teacher. And you can forget about expense too—for your lessons cost only a few cents each; and that includes sheet music which alone is worth much more than that!

Which Instrument Do YOU Love?

Just check your favorite instrument in the coupon below. Your dream of playing that instrument, and playing it well, can come true. Yes, soon—because this tried-and-proven simplified method takes the drudgery out of learning; cuts out all that is boring; and really HOLDS your interest and enthusiasm because you find yourself progressing so rapidly!

Let us tell you all about it—without obligation of any kind. We want you to see for yourself how simple, how interesting, and how successful our method really is.

Free Book

And Free Instruction-Sample

Mailing the coupon places you under no obligation whatever—and no salesman will call upon you. You will receive, by mail, our free illustrated book and a Free Sample of our simplified, copyrighted method of instruction. So mail the coupon AT ONCE. Don't delay putting this wonderful accomplishment into your life. U.S. School of Music, Studio C2461, Port Washington, N. Y. (Special Reduced Prices on instruments to our students.) ## THOUSANDS NOW PLAY WHO NEVER THOUGHT THEY COULD

Didn't Know a Note Now Plays for Dances

"I DIDN'T KNOW ONE NOTE OF MUSIC! Three months later I started to play for dances. I have been invited to many parties and made people very happy with my music." — Miss Rosie Montemurro, Canada.

Amazes Her Friends

"I bet some friends I could learn to play quickly. They didn't believe me — because I am slow learning. Imagine their surprise last night when I played. One said, 'Why, Louise, it sounds like you've been playing for years!'" — Louise Gomez, California.

"Easy As Falling Off Log"

"It's easy as falling off a log. I have always wanted to play and now a life-long dream is being fulfilled." Mrs. Phyllis B. Jones, Utah.

"Never Dreamed I Would Ever Play"

"I never dreamed I would ever play. I didn't know one note from the other. Today I can play six delightful pieces after only two months." — Mrs. Dallas B. Kerk, Nebr.

Learns Faster With- out Teacher

"I have no special talent—but thanks to your method, I play my guitar (according to impartial people) better than many students who have taken lessons from teachers for longer periods, and naturally at a higher cost." — Myrella-Muquette Saint-Andre, Canada.

How Famous Orches- tra Leader Got His Start

"I got my start in music with a U.S. School Course. How easy it is to learn to read notes and play an instrument this 'teach yourself' way! In fact, this school did so much for me that I've enrolled my two daughters." — Lawrence Weik, famous orchestra leader.
